1. [redacted] since March 1951 many trains have been arriving in Rumania from the Soviet Union, headed West, whose flatcars are covered with tarpaulins and so lettered as to give the impression that they are carrying tractors. Reportedly, these flatcars are carrying new ordinance pieces and munitions crates.
2. At Curtici and Arad, the railroad loading platforms are under special surveillance. The sentries at these two railroad stations prohibit the travellers coming from abroad to leave their trains.
